“The boot camp allowed me to really understand programming from a full-stack perspective much faster than I had expected.”

The boot camp experience was great, a ton of that positive experience is attributed to my excellent instructor Michael Bethencourt. I chose to attend the boot camp because I was seeking a career change. I had been learning some web development on my own on and off for two to three years and was seeking some guidance to take my skills to the next level. I wasn't sure how much learning I would really accomplish in a six-month, part-time program and was very happy with the knowledge I gained.

I recently got a two-month contract position for a backend developer role with the opportunity to go full-time if the MVP does well and seed funding is obtained. The boot camp has allowed me to really understand programming from a full-stack perspective much faster than I expected. I'd say the material and concepts I learned would have taken me two or more years on my own to grasp.
